REDWOOD COLLECTIONS

We chose Spotler because they are one of the only platforms that allows us to send emails to purchased data. As we are generating the majority of our leads from purchased data, this was one of our main requirements.

The analytics are great and the automated workflows to help generate more leads has been a big help to our business and towards our growth strategies.

Also, Spotler has a very robust integration to Salesforce. All the leads feedback back into our CRM, which helps our sales team to prioritise their phone calls and helps Management keep better control.

I am more than happy to recommend Spotler to any prospective new customer
